- Terrain Description: Frederikshåb – Mixed state forest and private forest. Denmark's most beautiful nature with inland dunes and open areas. The race area offers varied runnability and many trails, open areas, and lakes. The area is very detailed, especially in terms of curves and density. There is a lot of spruce and many areas with dense spruce growth. Vingsted – Consists of several varied forest areas with open grasslands in between. Several places in the forest are nicely undulating. There are areas with terrain archery targets in the form of exotic animal figures. In the middle of the area lies Northern Europe's largest shooting center, with many different shooting ranges.
